September 20th Baltimore Avenue Dollar Stroll: Another triumph!

The final Baltimore Avenue Dollar Stroll of the 2012 season was a rousing success, with an estimated 5,000 people taking advantage of the event. The lovely weather and wide variety of goods for sale really seemed to bring out the enthusiasm in the participants. Musicians of virtually every description provided the soundtrack for the three hour stroll.

The University City Historical Society was among the successful vendors on that late summer evening, signing up eighteen new members. The table for the UCHS was manned by Melani Lamond, Moe Phillips, Mark Silber, Elizabeth Stegner, and Joseph Minardi. In addition to yearly memberships, items such as books, mugs, and posters were also available for sale.
